ROHS DIRECTIVE (2002/95/EC)

The Restriction of Hazardous Substances in Electrical and Electronic Equipment (RoHS) Directive was passed into law by the European Union (E.U.). It affects manufacturers, sellers, distributors and recyclers of electrical and electronic equipment containing lead, cadmium, mercury, hexavalent chrome, polybrominated biphenyl (PBB) and polybrominated diphenyl ether (PBDE). From July 1, 2006 the use of these materials has been severely restricted in most electrical and electronic products sold in Europe.

This letter is to certify that as of June 1st 2006 the parts/products sold by Accortec Incorporated meet the requirements of the RoHS Directive 2002/95/EC issued January 27, 2003. The following table lists the restricted materials and their respective allowable limits.

This declaration represents Accortec's knowledge and belief which is partially based on information provided by third part suppliers. In order to meet special requests from customers, we may supply certain legacy products for which RoHS-compliant components are unavailable from our suppliers for use in older equipment. Accortec makes no guarantees of RoHS compliance for these older products.
